

US Army Corps of Engineers
Savannah District

Biography

JOHN P. SAIA

Deputy District Engineer for Project Management

U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, Savannah District

John P. Saia became the Savannah District's Deputy District Engineer for Project Management, and Chief, Programs and Project Management Division in December 1994. The Division includes a staff of about 75 who are involved in managing military design and construction; hazardous, toxic, and radiological waste remediation; and civil works. Savannah District serves Army and Air Force facilities in North and South Carolina and Georgia. The district also performs work nationwide and worldwide in support of family housing, barracks/dorms, master planning, and other facilities.

Prior to joining the Savannah District, Mr. Saia was Deputy District Engineer for Project Management in the Sacramento District, U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, from April 1988.

Mr. Saia graduated from the University of Miami, Florida, in 1968 and, under a Corps graduate study program, received a Master of Science degree in Civil Engineering from California State University, Sacramento, in 1976. He is a registered Civil Engineer in the state of California, passed the certified project manager test, and is a graduate of the Corps' Executive Development Program.

He is a member of the Society of American Military Engineers, the American Society of Civil Engineers, and the Project Management Institute.

Mr. Saia has served in a number of management positions since joining the Corps in September 1968, including Study Manager; Special Assistant to the Chief of Planning; Chief, Study Management; and Chief, Programs Management for Military and Civil Works.

Mr. Saia's wife, Elizabeth, is from Mobile, Ala. They have four children.

